Network marketing lead generation using forums

I try to post on this website network marketing tips that I think they are useful and practical. If you are interested in reading about a particular topic, feel free to contact me. Do not hesitate to comment on my posts, be nice though ;)

Forums can be used to generate leads for your network marketing business.

There are two types of forums: product forums or mlm forums.

If you are looking to market your opportunity then you may visit mlm forum and post there.

The trick is that those forums are designed for people to help each others. You are not allowed to go and post advertisement or the moderator in these forums will kick your butt.

You need to visit, check to see what questions people may be asking, and try to be useful and helpful. You are allowed at the end of your post to place your signature line.

Your signature line should be short and sweet; it should attract the attention, curiosity and interest. Then you add your website address.

If you are helpful and show your expertise then many people will visit your website to see what it is about, and this is usually your website or lead capture page.

Now, you may be a beginner and have no expertise, then you need to get training and mentoring, join our free generic network marketing training.

In order for your forums to be effective, you need to post on a regular basis.

If you are looking for customers then you visit the corresponding forums and post the same way: be helpful, do not advertise gallantly.

For example, if I want to visit a forum my signature line would be:

Nabil Khoury, MD
The MLM doctor
